Research field

(up to 500 characters)

We deal with the historical linguistics, especially historical syntax, grammaticalization, and language contacts. Our main field of interest focus on the historical development of connectives and particles in Baltic and Slavic languages, grammaticalization of parataxis and hypotaxis, and comparative constructions in historical and typological perspective (see www.researchgate.net/profile/Norbert\_Ostrowski).

Other foci of the Chair are: philosophy and methodology of linguistics (Ireneusz Bobrowski), corpus linguistics with the emphasis on morphological productivity and syntax, and study of translationese with the use of stylometric methods (Rafał L. Górski).

The proposed research/project description

(up to 1000 characters)

The potential fields of cooperation are: 1) the historical development of comparative constructions in Baltic and Slavic languages, 2) the grammaticalization of parataxis and hypotaxis markers in abovementioned languages 3) translationese and its variants.
